Bee Bots and Coding

This workshop is aimed at developing problem solving skills through concepts of computational thinking and coding.

Bee Bots are exciting programmable robots designed for use by young children. They are a great resource to introduce simple programming and coding to children. These easy to operate and friendly robots are a perfect tool for teaching directionality, sequencing, estimation and problem solving. Children will begin to use specific vocabulary associated with coding and understand that they can control the device by creating simple algorithms.

Bee Bots are used in Junior Classes
