A Framework for School Leaders

Coaching For Success

What makes a leader – the power of emotional intelligence in leadership

Thursday, May 23rd

9.30 – 3pm

Following on from the recent highly successful workshop programme 'Coach as Leader' the Centre is now offering a one day coaching programme for senior management teams.

The day will again be facilitated by John Hill & Nicola Lynagh, both highly experienced in education leadership coaching and both CSL Coaches

This is a once off opportunity for Principals, DPs and AP1/2s

- Many educators come into positions of leadership with limited understanding of what is required of a leader and how to bring the best out of themselves, colleagues and key stakeholders
- Emotional intelligence is seen as the key differentiator in leadership effectiveness
- These key skills are self-awareness, self-management, empathy with others, internal motivation and social skills

This workshop will work with the whole group collectively, in helping to understand the key aspects of emotional intelligence and more importantly, how to develop them

Each participant will be aided in identifying areas they wish to work on and give them the key skills to begin to achieve a deeper effectiveness in school leadership

Venue: Donegal Education Centre

Online registration: www.donegaledcentre.ie

Cost: €50 per participant. Please note that this course is being subsidised by the Centre in recognition of the significant support it will make to school leadership

(usual LeonEdu fee determined is £95st)
